FELLOWS' ORIGINAL

WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests.

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious results can ensue, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various causes, from time to time, have been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine, &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objections, and pre-[illegible] safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill the worms, but act by unsing their dwelling-place disagreeable to them. In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these Lozenges, the signature of Dr. A. A. HAYES, State Assayer, is annexed:—

"I have analyzed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs. FELLOWS & Co., and find that they are free from Mercury and other metallic or mineral matter. These lozenges are skillfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe, yet sure and effectual in their action. Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M.D.
Assayer to the State of Mass."

Price 25 cents per Box: Five for $1.

Important to Lumbermen

AND

Owners of Hemlock Lands

THE AMERICAN PATENTED IMPROVEMENT TANNING COMPANY of New York own the exclusive right in the United States for the manufacture of an [illegible] "EXTRACT" of Hemlock Bark for tanning purposes. The Bar Extract is now extensively used among Tanner and the demand for it is rapidly increasing. It commands a ready sale in Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets, at sixty cents per gallon. The appliances for manufacturing are simple and not expensive, costing but little more than the ordinary leaches used by Tanners. By this process 15½ pounds of bark may be reduced so as to concentrate the entire strength into forty gallons of Extract, without in the slightest degree injuring its tanning qualities, and at a cost not exceeding one dollar per cord. The freight, in freight alone, between the transportation of the Extract and the Bark, will range from six to eight dollars per cord, so that any one who may set out but three hundred cords of Bark per year, may save from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars in the difference in freight.

The Company does not propose to sell Territorial rights, but will grant exclusive privilege to manufacture in certain localities, charging a small royalty per gallon on the amount manufactured.

The Company will send competent men to superintend the construction of works, where parties desire to enter into the business, and to instruct in the manufacture of the Extract.

As a guarantee of sincerity parties entering into this business, the Company will contract to take all the Extract manufactured under their process at fifty cents per gallon, delivered in Boston or New York.

Parties in Maine desiring further information, or to [illegible] &c., may call upon or address CARLOS MALE, General Agent for Maine, No. 2 Exchange, Bangor, where models of the apparatus may be seen.

The Reconstruction Bill

The following is the Military Reconstruction Bill

Whereas no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exist in the rebel States of Virginia North Carolina South Carolina Georgia Alabama Mississippi Louisiana, Florida Texas and Arkansas and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and republican State governments can be legally established therefore

Be it enacted &c That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States as hereinafter mentioned and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district, North Carolina and South Carolina the second district Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district

SEC 2 That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army not below the rank of brigadier general and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned

SEC 3 That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals and to that end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders or when in his judgment it may be necessary for the trial of offenders he shall have the power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose and all interference under color of State authority with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void

SEC 4 That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they may conflict with its provisions

SEC 5 That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution and government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said States twenty one years old and upward of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law, and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of such delegates and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification who are qualified as electors for delegates, and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same and when said State, by a vote of its legislature elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by the Thirty ninth Congress, and known as article 14, and when said article shall have become a part of the Constitution of the United States said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress and senators and representatives shall be admitted therefrom on their taking the oath prescribed by law and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State

Provided that no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said proposition of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of a convention to form a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention

SEC 6 And be it further enacted, That until the people of the said rebel States shall be admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States any civil governments that may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only and shall be in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States, at any time to abolish, modify, control, and supersede the same and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act. And no person shall be eligible to any office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendments

SEC 7 That no sentence of death under this act shall be carried into execution without the approval of the President '

SPIRITED LETTER BY GENERAL THOMAS TO A SOUTHERN MAYOR Gen Thomas, commanding the department of Tennessee, has written a vigorous and outspoken letter to the Mayor of Rome, Georgia, who interceded in behalf of some young men arrested for displaying the rebel flag on some recent public occasion, saying that no disrespect was intended to the United States government &c After administering a sharp rebuke in this particular case, the General continues

"The [illegible] of this and similar [illegible] of fences [illegible] of the [illegible] Rome [illegible] States [illegible] do [illegible] have not [illegible] that the late [illegible] ry will [illegible] and will [illegible] [illegible]

...in the history of the war, they are trying to throw the gloss of respectability, and thrusting with contempt and derision from their society the men and women who would not join hands with them in the work of ruining their country Everywhere in the States lately in rebellion, treason is respectable and loyalty odious This the people of the United States, who ended the rebellion and saved the country, will not permit, and all attempts to maintain this unnatural order of things will be met by decided disapproval

As, however, it is pretended by the friends of the citizens arrested that they were so innocent as not to know that it was wrong for paroled prisoners and unpunished traitors to glory in their shame and flaunt the symbol of their crime in the face of the country, they will be released from confinement with the understanding that no act of treason will be passed unnoticed when detected, and may they and others who think like them profit by the lesson they have received "

FARM WAGES IN THE UNITED STATES — Commissioner Newton's agricultural report for January contains some very interesting statistics in regard to the wages paid for farm labor in the different portions of the United States

The annual result of these inquiries shows that there has been an increase of about 50 per cent in the rate of wages paid to farm laborers during the last five years and an increase of about 70 per cent since 1835 — When the rapid immigration of foreigners commenced it was feared by many that the competition of laborers for labor would reduce the rate of wages The result has proved the groundlessness of these fears, and it will be a long time before the United States will be in any danger of having more laborers than labor The present average rate of farm wages in this country is $28 per month for white laborers in the Northern and Western States and $16 per month for freedmen of the South In England the present rate of farm wages is about $14 per month, and upon the Continent of Europe the rates of wages are still less The rate of wages in the several States differs in proportion to the multiplication of separate industries modified in new States in process of settlement by the increased demand for consumption occasioned temporarily by incoming settlers who are as yet non producers, or in the mining States and territories by the employment of the majority in mining — The following is a table of average wages per month for farm laborers employed for the year, in the different sections of the country

Eastern States,	$33 80
Middle States,	35 07

Judge Walton appeared before the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature in behalf of the Supreme Judicial Court to urge a re adjustment of the terms of the Supreme Court throughout the State with a view to the bringing of the Judges together in the several Judicial districts at different periods, instead of in succession as heretofore, for consultation, which he believed would very much facilitate the decision of cases before the law courts The difficulty now is that the Eastern, Middle and Western districts follow each other in such rapid succession that the judges have no time to decide the cases presented in one district before they are obliged to hasten to another, leaving them no time for consultation and the result is that many cases which could be decided in a few days if the court had time to examine them, often go around to the end of the year Under the new system it is proposed to hold the law term at Bangor in the Eastern District, in December instead of May the law term for the Middle District at Augusta, in May the law term for the Western District at Portland, in July, thus giving the Judges time for each successive law term to examine and dispose of most cases before commencing a term in another district

CAPACITY OF THE ATLANTIC CABLES A report recently submitted to the Directors of the Anglo American Telegraph Company, London, states in relation to the two cables owned by the company, that their capacity for the transmission of news exceeds the most sanguine expectations It had been estimated that from twenty five to forty words a minute could be transmitted, where as practically one hundred words have been forwarded through each cable in one minute This result has been attained without resort ing to any of the appliances that had been provided to increase the working power of the cable As for the capacity of the cables it is only limited by the power of the human eye and brain to trace the transmitted signs The period of time required for the transmission of a sign across the Atlantic is not appreciable The business thus far has been very profitable, and the proposed reduction of rates will no doubt add largely to the income by an increase of business

The Committee on Military Affairs, after inspection of the arsenals and State property at Bangor and Portland, have reported a resolve instructing the Governor to procure from the General Government or elsewhere three batteries of light artillery, of six guns each and two thousand of the best pattern of breech loading rifled muskets The guns, should the resolve pass, will probably be the brass Napoleon, iron Parrott, or 'ordnance gun " The committee in their report say "As Maine is a frontier State and liable to be suddenly called upon to defend her territory from invasion, there is an obvious propriety in her possessing some of these superior weapons, and it is to be hoped that the General Government will, for these reasons, be liberal toward the State by furnishing or aiding to procure these arms "

The New Orleans Times, noticing the recent address thero of Dan Voorhees of Louisiana, in which he advised the South not to yield to the demands of Congress, sarcastically suggests that "the northern minority which believes it would be a sublime sight to behold us undergoing radical hacking and trituration for the sake of the constitution, has not yet exposed itself to any such ordeal out of devotion to the same cause. On the contrary, whatever abhorrence of radical domination individuals of this minority may feel and manifest, the minority itself as a constituent of the mass of the northern population is logically a party to that domination and in some degree responsible for its acts.'

SOUTHERN RESPONSES A Washington despatch of Thursday says that Charleston papers declare that the South will never accept "the Sherman bill," as they call the new Reconstruction bill in the shape it passed the Senate, before the House added the Wilson and Shellabarger amendments The Richmond Whig, also, after describing the bill in opprobrious terms, says

The States of the South will decide the question for themselves, should the Sherman substitute become a law, but for this State we can say that the present generation of Virginians must pass away, and their sons and sons' sons, before she will seek any representation in Congress through such means, and especially such representation Military rule may be imposed on her, every device of State torture may be applied, these will be the shame of those who employ them, not hers—but she will never confess a falsehood, nor affix the brand of infamy on her own brow Never!

LONGITUDE BETWEEN ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES America again leads the world While the English savans were preparing to determine, by the cable the difference of longitude between England and this country, and the French were discussing the best methods, Dr Gould of this country invented several ingenious devices to facilitate his operations, and has solved the problem within four hundredths of a second It was formerly determined by means of some fifty odd chronometers, making repeated voyages from 1841 to 1855, within nineteen hundredths of a second, and now this has been reduced to four, which in a distance of nineteen hundred miles would lead to an error of less than forty feet

NORTHERN LIGHTS FOR 1867 An Illustrated Magazine of Tales, Travels, Poems, Sketches, and Essays New York The American News Company, 119 and 121 Nassau Street, Boston, Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington Street, agents for the proprietors Northern Lights is an attempt to combine the variety and vivacity of the newspaper with the culture and literary ability of the monthly magazine It is issued every week, often enough to avoid losing the thread of its serial articles It was begun with the New Year, and has contained contributions from many of the best American writers

THE TARIFF BILL There is little chance of the passage of the Tariff bill by the present Congress The House Ways and Means Committee have made two hundred and seventy amendments to the bill as it came from the Senate, and each of these must be considered in the House in addition to the Senate's recommendations, and then they must go back to the Senate for concurrence None of the Appropriation bills for 1868 are yet completed, and as the last days come these will take precedence of everything else The Fortieth Congress will probably take early action upon the Tariff question

The old frigate Brandywine, burned and sunk off Portsmouth (Va) Navy Yard in the early part of the war, has been successfully raised She proves to be in very good state of preservation, and if the present intention of converting her into a naval store ship is carried into effect she will doubtless render years of efficient service to the Government in future

A CHALLENGE!

Editor of the Whig and Courier

I noticed in a late number of the Bangor Evening Times that Lady Chapman, a mare belonging to Mr Bisbee of Camden, has recently trotted a mile on the ice in the wonderful time of 2,24 and also that her owner has challenged any horse in the State to trot a match for any sum between one hundred and one thousand dollars

As there is a horse in this vicinity which needs a little exercise of this kind, I propose to match the said mare Lady Chapman for $1000 a side a race, mile heats, best 3 in 5 to harness or wagon—the race to be trotted over the Bangor track some time in the month of May next. If Mr Bisbee sees fit to accept the above proposition he will please address— "TROTTER,'

DR. SCHENCK'S
NEW OFFICE

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3 Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars

Dr Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease and how to use his medicines namely his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone and what part also whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh or from Liver complaint

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him but if they live in any land are well enough it is best to see him All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver are kept in perfect order To get lungs in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created so as to make good blood before the lungs will begin to heal then the chills and night sweats will stop and the expectoration become free and easy

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms which can be had at all times

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle or $7 50 the half dozen Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box

Mazzini's renunciation of his seat in the Italian Deputies has been accepted, he having declared that he could not sit in that chamber consistently, with his republican principles.

Havana dates of the 20th, per steamer Columbia, state that a French steamer arrived there on the 18th, with Vera Cruz dates to the 13th, and City of Mexico to the 9th.

The report that President Juarez had been taken prisoner grew out of an unexpected attack made by Miramon with 3000 men on Zacatecas. Miramon's official despatch says Juarez escaped, owing to the velocity of his carriage.

Escobedo arrived upon the scene next day, gave battle to Miramon at San Jacinto, and completely routed him, taking 800 prisoners, capturing all his artillery and $40,000.

At last accounts Miramon had arrived at Queretaro, with only four officers.

The Imperial commander of Guanajuato had been defeated by Riacon Gallardo, and that city had fallen into the hands of the Liberals.

Maximilian's Minister, Tabearo, with a strong brigade, was routed while coming from Toluca to reinforce the capital, and left 500 men, dead and wounded, on the field of battle.

The bearer of official despatches for the French steamer was stopped by Porfirio Diaz, who is encamped between Puebla and Mexico.

It was reported at Vera Cruz that Juarez left Zacatecas for San Luis, three days before Miramon made his sudden attack upon that place.

Eight hundred soldiers of the garrison at Puebla had declared for the Republic; and it was expected that as soon as the French had left the remainder would take possession of the city and pronounce for Juarez.

Marshal Bazaine arrived at Puebla on the 6th inst.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.

Senate.

Mr Trumbull called up the House joint resolution to prohibit any officer of government paying any claim accruing prior to April 13, 1861, for any person who promoted or encouraged, or in any manner sustained the rebellion, or who during said rebellion was not known to be opposed thereto, and distinctly in favor of its suppression.

The Judiciary Committee reconsidered striking out all after "rebellion" where it first occurred.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr Fogg offered an amendment as a proviso that the resolution shall not be construed to prevent payment of claims or contracts made prior to that date with loyal citizens of the South. Agreed to.

Mr. Howe offered an amendment to add after the word "rebellion" where it first occurs, "or in favor of any person who does not prove to the satisfaction of the proper accounting officer that he was opposed to the rebellion and in favor of its suppression." Adopted, 25 to 6.

The joint resolution as amended passed.

Mr. Fessenden, of the finance committee, reported the army appropriation bill with amendments.

Mr. Conness introduced a joint resolution instructing the Secretary of State to obtain, from the Columbian Government authority for surveying for an inter-Oceanic Ship Canal across the Isthmus of Darien, and ascertain the terms on which the right of way can be obtained. Passed.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. It appropriates $2,700,000.

The Senate then went into executive session, and afterwards took a recess until 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

The bill to establish land districts in Montana, Arizona, Idaho and Utah was passed.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up.

Mr Sherman offered a substitute for Mr. Henderson's amendment, which was to appropriate $100,000 for the relief of the Navajoe Indians prisoners in New Mexico, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, provided no rations were issued to them by the Secretary of War after July 1st. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Henderson, the appropriation for Indians in Arizona was raised to 70,000.

Mr Henderson offered an amendment appropriating $20,000 to pay the expenses of the Fort Kearney massacre investigation. Adopted.

After lengthy discussion on other amendments, which were not agreed to, the bill passed.

Adjourned.

House.

The House went into committee of the whole on the bill, making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government.

Mr Shofield inquired of Mr Stevens when expenditures about the capitol would cease.

Mr Stevens replied if the question was asked his successor some twenty years hence, it might be answered, but gentlemen should recollect that the construction of a great edifice like the capitol required a little more time and money than putting up of a saw mill.

Mr Shofield had no idea the capitol would remain at Washington. The cutting down of the mileage last session would cause the Western members to insist on its being moved westward.

Mr Price for the second time moved an appropriation of $250,000 to build a bridge across the Mississippi River at Rock Island Arsenal, which gave rise to considerable debate.

Mr Harding, of Illinois, offered an amendment providing that the bridge shall be free to public travel, and that ... the expenses of superintendence be borne by the ... companies.

Mr Price accepted this ... the amendment ... to.

The committee ... ate bill to ... of the ...

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill from the evening's session making void all acts and proclamations of the President for the suppression of rebellion etc.

The bill then passed—95 to 37—after which the House adjourned.

Court adjourned sine die.

—We shall be obliged to decline the communication of "Consistency"—as it would be likely to bring on a theological or sectarian controversy, suited neither to our columns nor our inclination.

—We see by the New York papers which came Saturday, that Gen. Roberts' nomination as Collector at Bangor was rejected, as we supposed, instead of confirmed as the Boston Journal had it.

—The nomination of Gen. J. H. Butler, Collector of Internal Revenue, 4th District has been rejected by the Senate.

—We are indebted to Hon. John Lynch for a copy of the latest volume of the Coast Survey.

"OLD CLOTHES," MORE "OLD CLOTHES." Would that this long familiar cry might be uttered so effectively as to cause parcel after parcel of the much-needed garments, especially children's,—more especially boys'—to be borne to the City Hall next Tuesday, when a committee of ladies will be found ready to receive and distribute them, to the many ragged and miserably destitute children, who are even now waiting to exchange their tatters for some decent garments, to protect them from the inclemencies of this severe winter. Are the house-keepers of Bangor aware of the fearful amount of destitution that exists in the city? Or have they already parted with all their half worn garments which can be spared? If this is the case, some measures must be taken to raise money for the purchase of clothing, that this pressing want may be met, for it is a shame to any Christian community, to suffer its poor, to be so very poor, as are large numbers in this city, at the present time.—Will not every family that has not already done so try to find something that they can send into the City Hall, to aid in clothing these shivering human brothers and sisters? Is it said that the ladies are imposed upon, and that much of this poverty is either simulated poverty, or the direct consequence of vice? Very probably this is often so—in more than one sense, is it true that "the destruction of the poor is their poverty,"—but with every deduction that candor would make, enough remains to stimulate to renewed exertion, every benevolent soul. The ladies endeavor to investigate every case as far as possible, and out of the many conflicting stories to sift the truth, frequently no easy task—and if any are dissatisfied, they are respectfully invited to come forward and give whatever information they possess, to guide the committee in the distribution of clothing. Of course, the ladies, and the gentlemen who have aided them, have no other motive than a wish to relieve suffering, and to do a little to help lift the heavy burden of the wretched and destitute.

It is the universal cry of all engaged in this work, "How much we need a City Missionary;" can we not have one? or a Provident Society? or some other agency which shall do this work in a systematic and thorough manner? ***

THE PENOBSCOT RELIGIOUS CONVENTION meets to-morrow afternoon in the First Baptist church. A prayer meeting will be held at two o'clock, to continue half an hour.

The topics for discussion in the afternoon will probably be:

1. How can the lay element in our churches be brought into greater activity in the cause of Christ?

2. How can the neglected classes of the community be brought more generally under the influence of the Gospel?

Services in the evening commence at 7 o'clock. The Temperance cause will be one of the topics in the evening.

Wednesday—8½ o'clock, prayer meeting; 9½, discussion; 2, prayer meeting to be followed by a discussion; 7, the Sabbath School and other topics.

Delegates from out of town will call on the committee of entertainment at the chapel of the First Baptist church, where they will be directed to accommodations during their stay.

BANGOR, Feb. 23, 1867.

"Petitioners to the Legislature asking authority to the city of Bangor to loan its credit in aid of the construction of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad (which petition is now pending before the Legislature) met at the Common Council room.

Hon. A. G. Wakefield, Mayor, was called to the Chair and A. L. Simpson chosen Secretary.

Remarks were made by Hon. Isaiah Stetson, Arad Thompson, F. Muzzy, C. B. Abbott, F. A. Wilson, Esq., George Stetson, S. D. Thurston, Charles Hayward and Jas. Dunning.

On motion, it was voted that a committee of five be appointed to present to Augusta on Monday morning next, for the purpose of urging upon the Legislature the passage of a bill authorizing the city of Bangor to loan its credit in aid of the construction of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad.

Franklin Muzzy, Charles Hayward, Chas. B. Abbott, Albert W. Paine, Esq., and Chas P. Stetson were appointed that committee with power to fill vacancies.

On motion, it was voted that the Mayor be requested to call a special meeting of the City Council on Monday next, for the purpose of taking action on the subject matter of the bill for the loan of the credit of the city in aid of the construction of said road.

A. G. WAKEFIELD Mayor.
A. L. SIMPSON, Secretary

In the remarks made it was generally conceded that it will not be for the interest of Bangor to have the Bangor & Piscataquis road independent from any other in its inception, retaining the right to make connections with any other road with which it can make the best terms. It was also conceded by all that it will not be for the interest of Bangor, as well as the corporators of said road, to connect with the E. & N. A. R. R. provided that road will not re-lease to the B. & O. Railroad the Piscataquis lands and a pro rata proportion of any grant that the E. & N. A. R. R. may receive from the General Government.

A strong feeling was manifest to have the B. & P. road built, and it was regarded of vital importance to Bangor, as well as the valley of the Piscataquis, that a bill be passed at the session of the Legislature, authorizing the city to loan its credit in aid of said road.

LEVEE AND DANCE. The Young Folks' Union, connected with the Universalist Society, give a grand dramatic levee and dance at Norombega Hall this evening. The comedy of "The Serious Family" will be given in three acts. There is known to be much talent in the Society, so we may expect something better than the ordinary run of amateur and parlor theatricals. A social dance will close the entertainment. A full house is a matter of course.

RESIGNATION OF MR. PETERSON. We regret to learn that Mr. Ellis Peterson, Principal of our High School, has sent in his resignation, to take effect at the end of this term March 6th. He has been elected Principal of the High School at Worcester, Mass. Mr. P. has won golden opinions here for his capacity and faithfulness as a teacher.

—Hon. John A. Peters leaves the city this morning for Washington, to take his seat as a member of the Fortieth Congress, which assembles on the Fourth of March for its session, agreeably to an act recently passed.

—A public meeting of the "Society of Inquiry" will be held in the Seminary chapel this evening at 7½ o'clock. Friends of missions are cordially invited.

—The constitutionality of the proposed act assuming town liabilities has been bro't in question. The Supreme Judges have been in consultation upon the subject, and we understand have decided that the act is unconstitutional. It conflicts with that section of the State Constitution limiting the State debt to $300,000. Seven of the Judges agree to the decision. Judge Barrows was not present.

THE "DASHAWAY" UNION CLUB OF STILLWATER. The Echo says of this temperance organization. It originated in Upper Stillwater with six persons, who, on leaving the public house, where they had been imbibing pretty freely, repaired to the engine house, and there they resolved on reform; and calling in another party, a pledge was prepared, and signed by the whole six; after which a constitution and by-laws were drawn up and an organization effected, the result of which is a membership of 367 in less than one year. The members are about equally divided between the sexes. Its weekly meetings are fully attended and are made interesting by discussions, reading of their society paper, declamations, &c. The requirements necessary for one to become a Dashaway, is to have a desire to join the "Union." Signing the pledge constitutes one a member as long as he keeps it. The meetings are open to outsiders who are cordially invited to participate in the exercises. Owing to the amount of good effected by this organization it has become very popular, and secured as members most of the influential citizens of the place, and also "they say" nearly all those given to drink in the vicinity. We say success to the Dashaways and all organizations having for their object the promotion of the cause.

The Dashaway organizations has existed in California, for several years, and we are glad to know that similar societies are being started in this vicinity.

—The Gardiner Gas Light Company, after a trial of twelve years, have come to the conclusion that they cannot make the business pay as much profit as the stockholders think their money should bring—and the Directors are authorized to sell the whole concern for $28,000. If not sold before the 1st of May, a meeting of stockholders is to be called, to see about stopping the manufacture. So we learn from the Journal.—Gardiner is a smart, flourishing city, and ought to consume gas enough to pay a fair profit upon so small an investment.

—The editor of the Brunswick Telegraph has tested samples of the Portland Kerosene oil and found it non-explosive to 180 degrees Fahrenheit. He also tested other articles sold for kerosene oil in that village and found that some marked No. 1 would explode at 82 degrees. This kind is, of course, extremely unsafe, and no dealer should sell such an engine of death.

LARBOARD. The Star says the use of this word in the navy was abolished by the Department many years ... special order ... for it ...

—A company for the manufacture of the "... Sewing Machine" has been formed in Gardiner. The corporators as we learn by the Journal of that city are Hon. Robert Thompson, L. D. Cook and Jas. S. McCurdy, the latter named gentleman being the inventor of the machine. The company is allowed to employ a capital of $150,000.—They intend to put up an extensive brick building which will, when fully in operation, employ three hundred operatives.

—The Belfast Journal says that a number of persons under the direction of a clairvoyant, are digging for buried treasure on the beach near that place. The clairvoyant professes to see in her mind's eye, a huge chest of treasure a few feet underground.—It is supposed that evil influences keep the thing moving as they approach it. The search has been carried on sometime but we do not learn that anything more valuable than clams has yet been found.

—The Journal says the Methodist Society of Gardiner contemplate a thorough remodelling and repair of their church. A steeple will be added to the house, three large windows, with stained glass, will take the place of the old ones, curved seats will replace the old fashioned ones.

THE LIQUOR LAW AMENDMENT. On Tuesday last a bill was introduced in the Senate to ascertain the will of the people concerning the sale of intoxicating drinks and a State police. It fixes the day on which public expression is to be given, which is the first Monday in June next. The bill has not yet been acted upon.

—The Maine Central train for Portland on Friday failed to connect with the Boston train in consequence of being delayed two hours by the freight train getting off the track near Yarmouth.

—The Gardiner Journal says that on the 8th inst. Ada Augusta, daughter of Wm. and J. Moody, of East Pittston, aged 10 years, fell on the ice, and received a slight blow on her head, from the effects of which she died in twelve hours.

—The Rockland Gazette is informed that on Tuesday, Feb. 19th, as Mr. Joseph D. Williams was attempting to cross the ice, from Mill River to Simonton's Point, unfortunately broke through and was drowned. He was about 46 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children.

—The Kennebec and Somerset Christian Convention was held in Augusta last week, Feb. 19, 20.

The York County Convention meets next Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 27, 28, at Biddeford.

—A negro made his appearance in East Machias village the other day, and was quite a curiosity to the young people, many of whom never saw a colored man and a brother before.

—The Pembroke Iron Works have recently received an order from California for 8,000 casks of nails.

—Bath is excited over the too severe correction of a boy in one of the grammar schools of the city.

—The first municipal election of the city of Saco will be held on the 11th proximo.

—At Trinity Church in Lewiston there is a choir of 24 children.

—Among the recent confirmations by the Senate are the following:

Colonels by Brevet of Volunteers—Capt. Whiting S. Clark, 1st Maine Heavy artillery and Major Geo. B. Dyer, 9th Maine.

Major of Volunteers by Brevet—Captain William A. Granger, 9th Maine.

Captain of Volunteers by Brevet—Geo. S. Daily, 9th Maine.

—Belfast is considering the project of a railroad from there to Moosehead Lake.—The following committee has been appointed to make a full investigation of the practicability of the proposed enterprise:

J G Dickerson, Chas. B Hazeltine, S A. Howes, R Sibley, N P Monroe, N Abbott, A Hayford, Seth L Milliken, O P Carter, Joseph Williamson, Philo Hersey, Chas. Baker, Wm. M. Rust, Nathan Houston, Josiah Mitchel, Alfred W Johnson and A. G. Jewett.

SMART CHILDREN. Mr Calvin Johnson of Brownfield has a daughter six years and five months old last May, at which time she dropped three thousand hills of corn in one day, and the corn was covered by her brother, aged 8 years and 11 months, in the same time. These children are as fond of study as of work, and their scholarship is equal to their industry.—Farmer.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mr Henry Hallowell, who has been afflicted with a tumor over the heart, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon, at the Walker House, from the breaking of the tumor. He lived but a short time after it broke. The deceased was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife who was with him at the time.—Press.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Mr. Alfred Huntley, while walking along the street on Saturday evening of last week, was knocked down and dangerously hurt by being struck on the head with a club, by one of a party of men, from Machias, as Mr. H. reports.—Machias Rep.

Miss Fernald, daughter of Mr. Cyrus Fernald of York, aged 20 years, died of the black measles last week. She was a young lady of many fine traits of character and beloved by a large circle of acquaintance.—She had recently made a donation of $100 to the new Church at Beach Ridge, York.—Press.

The fair at Kendall's Mills last week to raise funds to build a soldiers' monument proved very successfully. The Hall was packed to its utmost. Gov. Chamberlain spoke Wednesday evening, and listened to with marked attention. The fair was held four evenings—during the role the audience was entertained by songs, fancy dancing, negro minstrels, comedies, &c., &c., making it one of the most pleasing performances of the season. Capt. Channing, of that place, by his natural wit, added much to the several entertainments. It closed Friday evening with a grand dance.—Argus.

DEATH OF MISS CAROLINE JONES. We are pained to record the decease of Miss Caroline Jones, which occurred yesterday at her late residence on the corner of Congress and Park streets. Miss Jones and her sister, with their mother before them, have been the proprietors of a first-class private hotel for many years. At this house have sojourned many distinguished men, such as Daniel Webster, Mr. Justice Story, Charles Sumner, President Polk and many others. Miss J. was an amiable and estimable lady, and has been quite well for a year or more.—Argus.

(LATE OF PORTLAND),

THE CELEBRATED

INDIANOPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR

DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Disease, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.

DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case uses a knife, as does Dr. Greene, of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual, their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office at residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

The Unbolted Door.

An aged widow sat alone
Beside her narrow hearth
Her silent cottage never heard
The ringing laugh of mirth
Six children once had sported there but now the church yard snow
Fell softly on five little graves that were nothing ago

She mourned them all with perfect love
But since her eyes had shed
Far bitterer tears than those which dewed
The faces of the dead,
The child which has been spared to her, her darling and her pride,
The woeful mother tried to wish that she had also died

Those little ones beneath the snow,
Not lost but gone before,
Faith taught her all was well with them,
And then the pang was o er,
But when she thought where Katie was, she saw the city's glare,
The painted mask of bitter joy which Need gives Sin to wear.

Without the snow was thick and white,
No step had fallen there,
Within she sat beside her fire,
Each thought a silent prayer
When suddenly, behind her seat, unwonted noise
she heard
As though a hesitating hand the rustic latch had stirred.

She turned, and there the wanderer s sod,
With snow flakes on her hair—
A faded woman, wild and worn,
The ghost of something fair
And then upon the mother's neck the withered brow was laid
Can God and you forgive me all? for I have sin ned ' she said

The widow dropped upon her knees,
Before the fading fire,
And thanked the Lord whose loving hand
Had granted her desire
The daughter kneeled beside her too, tears stream ing from her eyes
And prayed, "God help me to be good to mother ere she dies!

They did not talk about the sin
The shame, the bitter woe
Their spoke about those little graves
And things of long ago
And then the daughter raised her eyes and said in tender tone,
' Why did you keep your door unbarred when you were quite alone?'

' My child," the widow said and smiled
A smile of love and pain;
' I kept it so lest you should come,
And turn away again
I've waited for you all the while—a mo her's love is true
Yet 'tis but the shadowy type of His who died for you!

The Double Bedded Room.

A TRAGEDY

In the spring of 1868 I went to Stanton to transact some professional business and attend a trial which was then before the criminal court, as that time in session I reached the place late in the evening, after a hard day s journey, and found the the only hotel in the village was full, with the exception of one bed in a double bedded room

'The other bed is occupied by a gentleman from New York,' said the landlord and as an inducement to me to help on the profits of the house, he added, 'he is neither a rogue nor a cut throat judging from his appearance They never have any such characters in Gotham Of course you'll not have any objections to sleeping in the same room with one of your own towns men'

As I had nothing about me even to tempt a third rate thief, and had never given my fellow men sufficient reason for severing my jugular in the dark I decided to take the bed in question, and soon retired

My fellow traveler was already in bed and apparently asleep with his face turned toward me. It was that of a mild looking man of thirty five, of a sandy complexion, with a hungry look. As I ran my eyes along his outline under the bed clothes, I did wish that he had been fatter, for in one respect I am like Cæsar, I prefer fat men about me when there is anything like prospective danger There was nothing in his physiognomy, however, that led me to suspect him given to deeds of darkness, so I once sconsed myself in bed, and with my very last thoughts upon dear Mrs Jones, I was soon as unconscious as one of the seven sleepers

Little past midnight I was awakened by a voice from my neighbor s bed I listened He was muttering in his sleep

'Oh, Mary how can you cast me off,' he went on, in the pleading tone of a distracted lover 'How can you forget the love that has followed you for so many years, and never turned from you in your misfortune, when you stood alone in the world!

Then came a pause, after which he continued with more moving tones than before

Say not so, say not so Before he with his wealth crossed your path, we were happy in ca h, and why should I be cast off after you have sworn by all that is high and good that you would be mine Ah' Mary, if you re ect me my soul will be given up to some dark deed that will destroy us both I shall have faith neither in God nor woman to restrain me Then you turn a deaf ear to my last prayer You have chosen your own life, and mark my word, you will never marry him'

The mind of the sleeper seemed to have become calm and his dream undisturbed as soon as he had given utterance to these last ominous words

He doesn't sleep, thought I He is going through with the romantic part part of life. He has taken the disease at an untimely age, it goes hard with him And as I remembered I had just such dreams at one time when I came losing the present Mrs Jones, I was not the least alarmed by my ominous neighbor's expressions

I thought no more about the matter, until I saw the man in court the next day The case was that of a young man on trial for the murder of a young woman to whom he had been betrothed The ground of his arrest was that on the night of the murder, in her own father s house, he was the last person known to be with her She had lived for several years in New York city, and it was reported that she then made the acquaintance of a penniless young man to whom she was engaged to be married, and that she had broken her engagement with him for a more wealthy rival whom she met on her return home

As I listened to the proceedings of the court I noticed that my fellow lodger seemed to take more of an interest in them than would be expected of an ordinary observer I then began to think whether there could be any connection between this crime and what I heard him saying in his sleep in the preceding night. It was a striking coincidence that Mary was the name of the murdered young woman He had seemed to be pressing his claims as more binding than those of a later and wealthier lover

His threadbare suit and unkempt general make-up showed that he might personate the poor lover Moreover, he was from New York, and seemed to have no particular business, except to hang about the court-room and note the proceedings

I kept my thoughts to myself, however, and watched for further developments

That night I went to bed first. My strange friend came up as I was apparently asleep. He seemed wholly unconscious of my presence. He placed his candle on a table near his bed, and commenced to examine some papers which he pulled from the breast pocket of his seedy coat. Occasionally he would rise and pace back and forth, as if there was some burden on his soul

'Yes, it must be so,' he muttered 'There is no other way for it. ... if ... other way, ... '

... was that he was to do! I could ... That, it was connected with ...

... his sentiments and ... by his side of the table ... sat down and began to write

I was too much interested in his movements to sleep, so I lay still and kept my attention fixed upon him

At first his pen moved deliberately over the paper, and as his hand passed over page after page, its scratching became louder and more nervous There was evidently a burning thought that must have expression in words The veins upon his forehead were swollen as if ready to burst, and his whole expression was that of intense excitement. He seemed to have forgotten that there was any body else in the room, for I could hear him muttering aloud his thoughts as he penned them Now and then he would pause, draw a long breath, and then dash on again At last he threw down his pen and struck his hand against his forehead with the exclamation

'I did it and now she is gone, why do I tarry here to see that poor wretch suffer in my stead' 'Twas as I said—she did not marry him There's comfort in the thought I loved her well—so well that I did slay her Could I have seen her as his wife and not gone mad! Ye cruel fates, ye were too many for me in the unequal strife, when 'twas a woman's heart became the price of the wealth but my good steel did find its way, where gold is powerless. I'll wed her yet, for here is that which shall give the quick conveyance to the shore where she has gone before'

He seized a little black bottle, took a deep draught, and then resumed his writing

I see it all now thought I It is as I expected This is the murderer, the lover who did the deed He is committing suicide, and writing out his own confession,

I was not inclined to disturb a man under such circumstances, so I lay still and awaited further results His pen dashed on more furiously than ever, and occasionally his hand would go to his bottle, whose contents were evidently working on his brain One of the candles had gone out, and the other burned low

He threw down his pen and applied the bottle once more to his lips and swallowed the last drop, and a sepulchural tone gave expression to these words as he stood before the expiring light

'This is all When they do look on this they will know why 'twas they thought me strange There s my confession writ for those who think it was a little thing that she rejected me They shall know that what I swore I had the courage to perform I'll to my couch, and let the morrow tell a tale of horror that shall make their drowsy souls believe there is a love far stronger than death

Farewell, earth, where gold doth rob me of my love ' and hail thou strange unknown whe e she doth wait my coming

The candle burned blue as the excited man uttered these last words, with gestures and tones of the spirit of one talking with the murdered Mary The last glimmer of the light was gone, and I heard the man throw himself heavily upon the bed

My first impulse was to give the alarm, but a second thought told me it was the murderer who had written out his confession, and was now taking himself off by a dose of poison I could do nothing by bringing him back to life again only to be strung up and die like a dog

I did not see why I should try to keep a poor wretch in this world when he had become convinced that he had better leave it He might make a worse exit under worse circumstances, and as he had done me no wrong, I could not out of charity interfere

With a quiet conscience I dropped asleep, and when I awoke at daylight, my neighbor lay on the outside of the bed, with his back towards me, and none of his clothing removed The candle sticks, the black bottle, and the papers were on the table I dressed myself and looked at the papers they contained a murderer's confession, evidently The bottle was labeled 'poison,' with a death's head and cross bones, but had a strong smell of brandy I bent over the motionless figure on the bed He was asleep

The whole thing was now so mysterious, that I said nothing about it, but after eating breakfast and settling my bill, left for home wondering whether I should see in the papers next day, 'The murderer's confession' I looked for some time, but as it did not appear, I began to suspect that something had been the matter with my brain during my stay at Stanton

Several weeks afterwards I went into a theatre. to hear a sensation play which was that night to be brought out I took my seat in the gallery, and watched the development of the plot It was one of the love and murder stamp I could not help thinking how similar were the circumstances to those of the trial in Stanton When in the last act the murderer's confession was reached, it seemed but a repetition of the scene in the double bedded room, which I have already described There was the actor striking his hand against his forehead, and finally, with outstretched arms, and gazing into futurity, uttering these words that had been so deeply impressed upon my mind at the village hotel;

'Farewell, earth, when gold doth rob me of my love, and hail the strange unknown where she doth wait my coming'

He then staggered toward a couch, and fell senseless upon it as becomingly as could be expected of a suicide

The applause was deafening My neighbor, whom I had not particularly noticed before, clapped his hands and beat the floor with his boots and cane, till there was no breathing from the dust he raised I was about to remonstrate, when my eyes assured me that he was no other than my lean friend of the double bedded room

The truth flashed upon me. I had heard of poor authors mingling with the crowd and going wild with the success of their play But the opportunity was too good to lose

'My friend,' said I, 'you seem to consider the piece a master stroke.'

'Indeed I do,' he replied, stammering away to keep up the applause. 'It takes, you see The first time I know it'

'I think I have seen it acted before,' I remarked

'Never, sir, I assure you, for I wrote it myself, and this is the first time it has been put upon the stage'

'I do not doubt your word, sir, but perhaps you have forgotten the double-bedded room at Stanton, where the 'murderer's confession' first saw the light of two tallow candles!'

'Ah yes' I recollect trying it on that night after I had worked it out of that murder trial'

'But why did you have your brandy bottle labeled 'poison'

'Well sir, the fact is, that I sometimes forgot to put it away, and I lasts longer with that label'

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE. In the recent trial of the parties charged with the murder of Capt. J F Gruber, Mr Trully one of the counsel for the defence, narrated the following story

The whole case was made up of circumstantial evidence of the loosest character, and to illustrate the unreliability of the best and strongest circumstantial evidence, he referred to a trial which took place in this court about thirty years ago.

'Judge ... in the Court, and Mr. Maurean was the Attorney General. ... man about twenty five or thirty years old. He was not a criminal, but a wealthy man, but he was ... Having had a ... in ... ing to the ... every evening ...

... to the Judge. The Judge allowed him a private conversation Supposing that he might have scruples about capital punishment, the Judge asked him if that was the reason he objected to being on the jury. 'No,' he answered, 'that is not the reason I saw the fisherman hung for the murder of my wife He did not do it. I did it myself from jealousy' The Judge sat petrified The man made for the door, escaped, and has never been heard of since —[Atlanta Intelligencer
